What do you like best about this course?

These comments are intended for all instructors.

Comments
It's flexibility of being online.
How clear the instructions and deadline were made to me. Gave me enough time to study and finish the course work.
The professor's ability to teach well through an asynchronous course.
I liked how fast and effective assignments were graded.
Learning how the government is involved in every aspect of our lives
I enjoyed the different assignments given. They were insightful and made me think about how nonprofit organizations work. I also enjoyed the interactive powerpoints; they were a great help to understanding some difficult material.
I like that it is online and weekly assignments are due.
That it is offered online
The class covered very interesting topics. Well organized and clearly presented.
The feedback was useful. I liked the materials to read provided. The course questions were great as well.
The format of weekly essays and a term paper
Schedule

If you were teaching this course, what would you do differently?

Comments
I would have spaced out the written assignments and make it bi weekly instead of weekly
Nothing. Great class!
Nothing.
I would maybe add an additional paper for a midterm.
Nothing
Nothing, this course is well put together.
I would change due date of assignments to Sunday evenings not Saturday evenings.

Comments
Encouraged to look at different perspectives on how to handle situations.
Professor Ding was so helpful, informative, and responsive to my emails daily! This class as been done smooth and not as stressful as my other classes. This helped me truly understand the material and gave me time to produce quality material for my papers.
By being so ready and willing to assist with any questions or confusion.
Made public admid easy to understand.
I took this course as an elective and found it very helpful and interesting. Many of my courses revolve around law and this one stood out to me. I valued the weekly discussions. I also valued how prepared Professor Ding was with fast grading and feedback.
Fornthis course to be remotenthe professor was well organized and helpful in clarifying any questions
This course taught me so much about nonprofit organizations, how they work, how they are held accountable.
Instructor Ding's assignments were interesting and made me want to read and read again to make sure I could answer questions effectively.
Provided great feedback needed for improvement
Great reading list, they changed the way I think about Public Administration and reality. Great discussions!
The materials provided were useful in understanding the material.
Provided several readings outside of the textbook
Professor. Fangda is a good instructor, she knows how to manage the reading and assignments of every week, which is really helpful for us to learn this course deeply.
